

Carmen Long

ABOUT CARMEN

Carmen is an energetic coder seeking a position as a web developer. She is self-taught in HTML5, CSS3, and JavaScript. The next language she plans to tackle is PHP.

Carmen got her first taste of working on the web as a reporter at a regional newspaper. She quickly became the web manager and began learning HTML, CSS, and JavaScript.

She realized that she loved coding and found a position working on eCommerce websites.

From there she moved on to her first developer job, where she currently works on a large JavaScript application.

SKILLS

- HTML5
- CSS3
- JavaScript
- jQuery
- Quality Assurance
- Wordpress
- Content Management
- Social Media Marketing
- SEO
- Adobe Creative Suite
- Communications expert
- Detail oriented

EMPLOYMENT

Weather Decision Technologies, Inc.

Web Developer

January 2015 - current

When I started at WDT, I inherited a large weather application written in backbone.js. I maintain this application day-to-day, as well as write and implement bug fixes.

I also work to add new features to this applications. I perform product testing, and work directly with the product manager and my supervisor to find bugs, implement fixes, and add new features.

Teleflora

eFlorist Technician

September 2013 - January 2015

At Teleflora, I worked directly with customers to manage their websites. I maintained their products, adjusted pricing, and offered SEO advice. I used a content management system to alter the website -- as well as HTML and CSS.

I worked with management to trouble the CMS, and used JavaScript and jQuery to edit templates.

Shawnee News-Star

Web Manager/Reporter

May 2012- September 2013

In addition to writing and reporting, I maintained the social media accounts for the newspaper. I shot, edited, and uploaded the videos to the website.

I worked closely with staff to coordinate their social media accounts with the newspaper's accounts, and gather video to use on the website.

EDUCATION

Oklahoma City University

Bachelor of Arts, Mass Communications

- Studied various forms of Mass Media, including video and writing
 - Perfected writing and communications skills
 - Used Wordpress to create and maintain blog
- Worked as copy editor and reporter at Student Publications
- Worked full time (40hr+/wk) while attending the University